Insight Management Corporation Looks into Additional Revenue Through the introduction of Wind Turbine Products Marketing Strategy.

Company to Promote Revolutionary Wind Turbine Systems

New York, NY, March 1, 2011 – Insight Management Corp., (OTCQB: ISIMD), announces that they have entered into a reseller agreement with EvolveGreen (www.evolvegreen.ca) to provide revolutionary wind turbines systems.

EvolveGreen is an alternative energy company in the province of Manitoba, Canada. Evolve Green's services include commercial, residential, and large scale projects. As a manufacturer, importer and supplier of wind turbines, solar, and LED lighting products, EvolveGreen specializes in alternative energy assessments, product recommendations, project consulting, and product integration in the alternative energy industry. They provide services for new builds, renovations, wind farms; commercial businesses, office buildings, manufacturing facilities, municipal infrastructure and health care facilities, wind farm developments, farming, residential homes and cottages.

ISIM's mission is to provide sustainable power generation that benefits the public and the environment. We want to educate the public on the many alternative energy products that are available to them, and show them how they can save money while also doing their part for the environment. Insight Management's strategy is to put together with both partnerships and market solutions to other Renewable Green Energy businesses that have committed to ecological sustainability. By incorporating this venture into the Company's revenue generating model, it will ultimately enhance the potential profit margins while simultaneously contributing to the Company's commitment with EvolveGreen, an international business specializing in Wind Turbines, as well as, a wide spectrum of other Green Technologies.

“Insight Management is always looking to find new ways to incorporate eco-innovations like Wind Turbine Systems to provide healthier forms of renewable energy, while simultaneously continuing to build shareholder value” stated Kevin Jasper, President, Insight Management Corp.
